Welcome to the 13th Annual English Riviera Eating Out Guide

This year we celebrate thirteen years of promoting the very best Eating Out establishments on The English Riviera.

In the following pages you will find an array of dining establishments from fine dining restaurants to country inns and gastro pubs, all of which provide quality food and drink in pleasant surroundings all year round.

Whatever the occasion you will find an establishment to match within the pages of this guide. You can also visit our website: www.eatingout-guide.co.uk or download the Eating Out Guide App.

Top dining accolades such as Michelin Stars, AA Rosettes and Les Routiers have all made their mark on English Riviera Restaurants in recent years and it is clear to see that the quality of dining is right up there with the very best.

Whatever your tastes, there's a delicious dining experience around every corner on the English Riviera, so why not let your taste buds do the walking and explore?

Please mention the guide when making a reservation with any of the featured establishments.

Bon Appetite!

Churston Court

Welcome to Churston Court. This unique hotel is under new ownership since October 2016, and is entering a bright new chapter in its distinguished history.

Churston Court is a former manor house of exceptional historical interest. This listed 12th-century manor house is dripping with atmosphere featuring large ingle nook fires and walls covered in original paintings, portraits, tapestries, armour and mirrors.

“Enjoy a candlelit dinner in the à la carte restaurant or relax in one of our cosy bar areas next to the roaring fires and enjoy pub favourites or our fantastic carvery.”

Address: Church St, Churston Ferrers, Brixham TQ5 0JE

Churston Court stands in its own grounds, with a large car park, terrace and lawn. It is the perfect place for all those who appreciate true atmosphere and quality – whether for dining or simply dropping by for a drink.

The house itself is a magnificent listed structure which retains a medieval core, while most of what you see dates from the 17th century. The house has close links with Agatha Christie, who was a regular guest of Lord Churston here. She regularly attended the church, and paid for a new stained glass window there. Several Agatha Christie books feature the local area – in fact the “C” in the ABC Murders stands for Churston.

Brixham, fish & seafood

Brixham is one of the biggest & oldest fishing ports in Britain and supplies the majority of Torbay's eateries with a daily catch of not only local caught fish but fish from as far afield as France & Spain. Some of the local produce Brixham is famous for are Fresh Dover Sole, Plaice & Lemon Sole, also to be found on the Quay are local Lobster, Crab, Scallops & Black Mussels from Elberry Cove.

If you're visiting Brixham, why not sample one of the harbour side restaurants such as The Poopdeck, which benefit from stunning views of Brixham harbour.

If you're in Torquay perhaps try out Man Friday's, No 7 or Hanburys in Babbacombe, all of which serve excellent seafood dishes.

- We serve fresh affordable fish and shellfish in a casual, cosy atmosphere.
- We do not serve fish by weight or shellfish by the gram.
- Our unpretentious menu is made up with produce from local fishing vessels, local divers. Day boat anglers supply our seabass, scallops and crab which prove so popular with our repeat customers.
- Our homebaked garlic bread is baked fresh every morning on the premises and is served complimentary on arrival.
- Our generous portions are accompanied with 3 different kinds of potato dish and mediterranean vegetables, so our menu has no annoying "extras" section.

poop deck

A FASHIONABLE cosy quayside restaurant overlooking Brixham harbour, its speciality, need it be said - is fish: shoals of it. If you immediately think of chips with everything then think again. Fish here boasts many accompaniments. The restaurant has an ambience that will appeal to all, warm and inviting with a friendly staff, it is decked out in a nautical theme without being intrusive.

Diners have been heard to say about The Poop Deck, "the eating 'experience' it is; but the word marathon springs to mind!" More often than not people will take home doggy bags, as the generous portions are known to get the better of people, specifically the house speciality, the shellfish platter. The A La Carte menu has an astounding choice, with the specials boards, all three of them offering the best selection of the catch in Brixham that day. However for you meat lovers there is also a fine choice of Steaks, lamb, pork and chicken dishes.

for food that comes 'highly recommended'

Tony Butler invites you to sample the very best of the local fish, using the finest of each day's catch. Your meal will be freshly prepared to order with the emphasis on taste.

Also a good selection of meat and vegetarian dishes on the extensive menu.

FAMOUS FISH & CHIPS.

A visit to Babbacombe Bay would not be complete without visiting Hanbury's Licensed Fish Restaurant and Takeaway and enjoying their famous fish and chips.

Hanbury's has been successfully owned and managed by David and Maureen Hanbury since 1982. They have been judged by Seafish as the South West's Fish and Chip Shop of the Year eight times in 1988, 1993, 1997, 1999, 2004, 2007, 2012 & 2013.

A visit will show you that no expense has been spared to create the distinctive decor and ambience which makes Hanbury's the talk of the South West.

Hanburys still on top of their game and winning awards after 35 years

Dave Hanbury and General Manager Jake Thorn receive their 2013  Fish and Chip Shop of the Year Award from entertainer Rory Bremner and Kristine Gramstad, Norway's Vice Minister of Fisheries, at the Lancaster London Hotel in January 2013

Hanburys are proud to announce that their fabulous fish & chips are now cooked in a newly formulated, advanced liquid oil made from healthier sunflower oil

Eastern

The western world loves the foods of the Far East – and it's easy to understand why! From the magnificently blended curries of India, to the hot and sweet dishes from Thailand and the many regional styles of Chinese cooking, the variety of the delicious textures and methods of cooking makes Asian food one of our favourites.

Chinese cuisine has an extensive history, and is renowned all over the world for its enormous variety of regional specialities that utilise dynamic ingredients to incredible and delicious effect.

Curry has been cited as the UK's favourite dish and there are thousands of Indian dishes to try, using an incredibly diverse selection of ingredients, spices and cooking techniques.

With so much delicious food on offer from such a vibrant part of the world, is it any surprise why the west is so in love with the eastern way of cooking?

Over the next few pages you will find an array of restaurants full of eastern promise . . .
